Do I have to include a tagline?

The Doctor Will See You Now

../plentyfishy.files.wordpress.com/2015/03/gp.png

Doctor Fishy awaits his next patient.

"Ah Mr Norris, do sit down. Now what can I do for you today?"

"Alright there our Doc, those cobbles on street have been playing murder on my knees again."

"Let me take a look. Oh my, your legs are like a child's! They don't seem to have matured with the rest of your body."

"I know our Doc, they've caused me gyp for as long as I can remember. Our missus say their like little boy's legs, just like when our kids were growing up. The thighs and the ankles are OK, but I've just got no strength in the knees at all. None"

"I see. So your legs are the size of a child's legs with strength in the thighs and ankles, but not the knees? Fascinating."

"Aye. So what's your diagnosis our Doc?"

"It seems very obvious to me Mr Gravy. You have weak kid knees"

Doctor Fishy awaits his next patient.

"Ah Mrs Hardon, please come in. How can I help you today?"

"Oh Doctor, I keep having spells where I can't see and at the same time my nose becomes blocked. Whatever could it be Doctor?"

"Hmmm. I'll have to have a closer look. I'm just going to shine a torch in your eyes and your nasal passage. Please keep still."

"Ooh, it's a little uncomfortable. I hope you can help."

"Yes, I can see the problem Mrs Hardon. The muscles around your eyes have weakened, and the eyeballs keep dropping into the nasal cavity."

"What? Is it serious?"

"It's a known problem, Mrs Hardon, which occurs from looking down one's nose at people too much. I could arrange for an operation, but I must warn you that I may need to re-use stitches that have been removed from another patient."

"I don't think that's appropriate Doctor. This is an important subject that requires it's own thread."

"Well, I could see you as a private patient, but it will cost £500"

"Can I write you a cheque?"

"I'll get back to you later on."

\(..../plentyfishy.files.wordpress.com/2015/03/gp.png\) Doctor Fishy awaits his next patient.

"Ah Mr and Mrs Oddball, take a seat.

"Are yur calling us a purf? I'll smash yur fookin' face in"

"I see."

"Yur see dee yur, yur fookin' bastod. I'll tell yur once, I. Do. Not. Want. To. Speak. With. Yur. So piss off."

"That is concerning behaviour. Have you...."

"My wife told yur to piss off, I'll tell yur to fook off."

"Calm down Mr Oddball, I only want to..."

"I told yur already yur fookin' quack, I. Do. Not. Want. To. Speak. With. Yur."

"You two are quite clearly mad."

"Crocodile Shurs."

The original version of this is still lurking in the shadows. It featured the following text:

"Ah Mr..... (the rest has been removed. Not sure why you want to attack a vulnerable person)

If you want to post on here fully, you need to do without using a proxy. Never had a Caribbean one before.

Even if you don't approve the comment, the content has been archived and can be as easily reposted elsewhere. If the content is not approved on here, the original version of this site will be recreated, it's really quite simple.

If you want to attack a vulnerable person, that's up to you.

If the person was vulnerable and that was an attack, then it was an attack by the author of this blog. Changing it doesn't alter anything, the original version is archived in full, ready for posting up. Would be interesting to compare both versions and look at reasons behind the changes. Could it be under new management? That probably explains it. It must mean the person referred to as vulnerable is now running this site. Most interesting!
